VEREAL DESCRIPTION:

Made of a light orange paste with very few micaceous inclusions this sherd is not fire clouded. It is a fragment of a human face. There is an indented eye shaped containing a bulbous eyeball. This type of eye is becoming frequent. The eyebrow is shaped by slightly indenting the area above the eye. The eyebrow is a very mild arch. Above the eyebrow it seems there is a headress scar. There is also a scar from a nose. There are two holes pierced as nostrils that were probably outlets for smoke. There is no slip or paste present.
